T U N I S, July 17.

AST Month we sent to Sea four Gallies, carrying 12 Guns, fifty-two Swivel Guns, and 670 Men; but their Success is very inconsiderable, having taken only a Genoese Coral Bark, a Neapolitan Bark laden with Corn, and two Genoese Pinkes. One of the latter, whose Crew amounted to twenty-seven, tho' deserted by her Companion (the Crew of which made their Escape in the Boat) fought our four Gallies, with only four Guns, a considerable Time, and did not strike 'til she had been five Times boarded. The Gallies belonging to this Place had upwards of 80 Men killed in the Engagement, and about 120 wounded. The Genoese lost only one Man; but the Turks were so exasperated by their obstinate Resistance, that they massacred two of the bravest, after they got Possession of the Vessel, and wounded ten others. The French Consul insists that the Vessel and Men be released, as having been taken within Sight of the Island of St. Margaret, contrary to the Treaty with the most Christian King: But 'tis apprehended his Remonstrances will be without Effect, because a French Ship protected last Year the Crew of a Neapolitan Vessel taken by a Corsair of Tunis.

Gibraltar, July 18. It having been published here, that the Emperor of Morocco's Son, who commands all the Southern Coast from Sallee to Cape Mow, has declared War against the English, Orders have been given, that Part of his Majesty's Squadron, under the Command of Commodore Edgecomb, should forthwith repair to that Coast, for the Protection of the British Trade.

Algiers, July 31. On the 20th Instant arrived here in the Phoenix Man of War, Stanhope Aspinwall, Esq; His Britannick Majesty's Consul, and the next Day had an Audience of the Dey.

Madrid, Aug. 6. We hear from Cadiz, that three Advice-Ships, bound to America, only wait for Dispatches from Court to put to Sea; and 'tis pretended they are to carry Orders to the Governors in the West-Indies, relative to the King's Intention to send out the Gallies, as was the Custom before the Ministry of the Marquis de la Ensenada.

Madrid, August 9. Mr. Wall, Secretary of State, and the Secretaries of War, Marine, and the Finances, have strictly ordered their First Clerks to give free Access to every Body, in Order that all Injuries both of a publick and private Nature may be redressed.

The Duke de Duras, Ambassador from his Most Christian Majesty, received a few Days ago some important Dispatches from his Court, after which he had a long Conference with Mr. Wall.

Port Louis, August 9. Though several Ships are already arrived from the Coast of Coromandel, we cannot form a right Judgment of the State of Affairs in that Country 'til the Arrival of the St. Lewis, by which Ship we expect exacter Accounts; and 'tis even thought she may bring Advice of a new Action, as the Governors on both Sides must have prosecuted their respective Plans of Operations, seeing they could have no Intelligence of the Convention on the Tapis in Europe between the two Companies. The Astrea Frigate was destin'd to set Sail for the East-Indies as soon as this Convention shall be signed; but as the Time is uncertain, she is come up into the Harbour again, and is unrigged. However, 'tis said that the Diana is ordered to be kept in Readiness to go upon the same Errand, as soon as the said Convention shall be concluded.

Leghorn, August 12. By a private Ship that arrived here some Days ago we are informed, that the Bey of Tivria having been ordered by the Regency of Algiers to march with a considerable Body of Troops, to reduce the Inhabitants of some Mountains in the Neighbourhood of that City, he actually found Means to come up with them; but tho' the Rebels were much inferior in Number, they fought so bravely, that they remained Masters of the Field: The Bey having been kill'd, in the Heat of the Engagement, his Army betook themselves to Flight. Since this Victory those Highlanders are become so arrogant, that they have rejected all the Terms of Accommodation offered them by the Regency.

Paris A-la-main, Sept. 1. The long wish'd for Time is at length come, the Parliament having met this Morning in the Great Hall of the Palace; and it is judged, from the affable Manner in which the first President receives every Body, that Affairs will take a favourable Turn. We are impatient to know the Result of this Meeting.

Several Letters from St. Hyppolite, in the Diocese of Alais, advise, that a Protestant Minister was found preaching in the Cevennes, was taken, tried, and hanged the same Day. The Master of the House where he preach'd, and several other Persons, are also taken into Custody, and are now actually under Prosecution.

L O N D O N, August 29.

Letter from Gibraltar, July 29.

On the 14th Instant arrived the Raven Sloop of War from England, with Stanhope Aspinwall, Esq; his Majesty's Consul for Algiers, for which Place he parted Yesterday on Board the Phoenix Man of War, Capt. Harvey.

Commodore Edgecomb, with the said Sloop, are the only Ships now remaining here. The latter with Capt. Buckle, when he arrives from Mahon, will, we believe, be employed to look after the Saleine Pyrate, who will be ready to sail from Larach in about a Fortnight hence, upon all Nations without Distinction: The Prince of Morocco whom she now belongs to, has declared War in Form against Eng'nd, and caused the same to be notified to our Consul General Mr. Petticrew; whereupon it has accordingly been published here by our Governor. We don't know whether you have any Knowledge of that Prince's Character: He is the Emperor of Morocco's only Son and presumptive Heir: He has had the Government of almost half of that vast Empire these eight or ten Years past, in which is comprehended the whole Southern Coast from Sallee to Cape Mow. In the late War a French Merchantman was cut away by one of Talbot's Privateers from under the Walls of Saby, which that Prince is demanding Satisfaction for ever since: But no Notice having been taken of it, nor the Compliment of a Present ever made him by England, he has taken this Step to shew his Resentment, and has actually two 20 Gun Ships more building at Sallee Port. But what will surprise you most is, That whilst England has Peace with the Father, the Son should presume to act against it; yet so it is, and the Father does not choose to forbid it, as if he had given up the Sovereignty of half his Dominions to him. So that there are now two distinct Powers to court in that Country: which will oblige us to send a Couple of Dutch Men of War this Summer, to compliment them apart, to avoid the Rock the English have split upon. The Teuaners and Tangerines have been formidable this Year at Sea, but behave very well to the English and Dutch they meet with: They have already taken two French Ships, a large Swede, and some poor Spaniards: The Swede and one of the French Ships were very rich.

We learn from Madrid, that the Ships fitting out for the Company of Campechey and Honduras, at Santander, will not sail this Year; but they are going to equip the four Men of War lately built there, for some Expedition.

N E W - Y O R K, October 21.

Extract of a Letter from Charles-Town, in South-Carolina, dated the 4th Inst.

Last Night arrived in Town an Express from our Western back Settlements, with an Account that some Indians and French, have killed 16 Persons on Broad River not 200 Miles off, and that 12 more are missing. And this Day the General Assembly was dissolved.

Capt. Cochran, in 7 Weeks from Cadiz, informs us, That a Schooner for Marblehead sailed the Day before him, and that Capt. Pearle, in a Snow, for the same Place, was to sail the Day after him: Whilst he remained at Cadiz, it was currently reported there, that the Gallies had the Impudence to profess, that they would, without Distinction, commit Hostilities upon all Nations; and that the British Consul at Cadiz, had dispatched an English Man of War, to know the Truth of such Report. Capt. Cochran sailed out of the Harbour of Cadiz, in Company with a French Man of War, that put in there some Days before, and, says, that in the Offing she was joined by four others of the same Nation; but where they were destin'd could not learn. On the 12th Instant, in Lat. 29. Lon. 69. Capt. Cochran met with a very violent Gale of Wind, in which he lost his Main Top Mast; and about 2 o'Clock the next Morning ship'd a Sea that carried away his Long-Boat, Binnacle, Starboard Rails, and did him considerable other Damage.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, October 17.

We have Advice that the Twightwees lately sent some of their Headmen to the Lower Shawana Town, on the River Ohio, with the following Message, viz.

Brethren the Shawanese,

"You know the French have invaded our Country on all Sides: Why do you sit still?—Will you be Slaves to the French, and suffer them to be Masters of all the Land, and all the Game?—Rise up, take the Hatchet, and follow our Example. We killed not long ago, Fifty Frenchmen, all Warriors in one Day.—Five other Nations have joined us; and if you, and your Grandfathers the Delawares, will but stir, the French will soon be forced to fly.

To which the Shawanese answered,

Brethren, the Twightwees,

"We are surprised at your Request. The Six United Nations have desired us to sit still, and not mind the French; and that we must keep our Ears and Eyes towards the Six United Nations; and so do our Grandfathers the Delawares. We desire you would spare us, and leave our Town before the French hear of you, and come and kill you here, and plunge us into the War, before the Six United Nations begin it." Upon which, it is said, the Twightwees accordingly left the Shawana Town much disgusted.

We hear that Tanachrisson, otherwise called the Half King, one of the principal Chiefs of the Indian Nations settled on the Ohio, died at Harris's Ferry, on Susquehanna, the fourth Instant, after having been some Time indisposed.

From

From Cumberland County there is Advice, that some Time last Month an Indian, named Israel, one of the Six Nations, killed an Indian Trader, at the House of one Anthony Thompson, near the Foot of the Tuscarora Valley, and then made his Escape.

WILLIAMSBURG, October 30.

This being the Day appointed by the Rev. and Hon. Mr. Commissary Dawson, for the Convention of the Clergy of this Colony; about fifty of them assembled at the College, and from thence went in a Body to Church: Where, after divine Service, a most excellent Sermon, particularly adapted to the Occasion, was preached by the Reverend Mr. Commissary: His Honor the Governor, and many others being present. After which they returned to the College, where Mr. Commissary opened the Convention, with a very judicious and pathetic Charge. They then, with the greatest Regularity, and Order, proceeded to consider the several Particulars recommended in the Charge: Which, that they might do with the greater Attention, and Deliberation, they adjourned from Day to Day, 'til the whole Business of the Convention was finished.

November 1. This Day the Commissary and Clergy, in a Body, waited upon his Honor the Governor, and presented the following ADDRESS.

To the Honorable ROBERT DINWIDDIE, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant Governor, and Commander in Chief, of the Colony and Dominion of Virginia:

The humble ADDRESS of the Clergy of Virginia.

S I R,
We his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commissary and Clergy of Virginia, assembled in Convention, beg Leave to express our Sense of his Majesty's Care of this Colony, in appointing your Honor to preside in the Government.

If we are late in doing this, by Reason of our not being called together sooner, we have thereby acquired an Opportunity of adding our Thanks to your Honor, for that Confirmation, which your laudable Conduct, in Quality of our Governor, has given to the Notions we had preconceived of you, from what we had frequently heard of your Abilities, Resolution, and Integrity in other Stations.

It is an uncommon Pleasure to be able ourselves to observe in you, that Tenderness for the common Interest, and Sensibility to its Danger, which ever make you, the first to perceive, the readiest to obviate, and the most indefatigable to repel the Calamities which threaten the Public. It is a still higher Gratification to see your Sense of Things too enlarged to take up with the Pursuit of single and detached Articles of public Utility; and in that, mistake the irregular Advancement of some Part for the Good of the whole; to find you now eager to amend our Staple, now zealous to prevent the dreadful Effects of Invasion, now heartily disposed to encourage Piety and Virtue, seeking your Duty where alone it is to be found, in the joint Service of your People, your King, and your God; any one of which Services can be no more than speciously promoted by him, whose Views are too narrow and partial to comprehend them all.

When we consider how cold many are in Religion, how tenacious of Luxury and Vice; together with our Condition in being exposed to the Encroachments and Ravages of an ambitious and cruel Neighbour, we sink into melancholly Reflections, from which nothing can raise us, but the looking up to, and beholding at the Head of Affairs, a Person, whom we hope, designed by Providence for the glorious Labor of so critical a Juncture, for making us happy, by driving Hostilities from our Borders, and ejecting from every other Part, Selfishness, Disaffection, and Irreligion.

May that extensive Plan, which your Honor acts upon, meet with the Success which it deserves; may the People long and gratefully enjoy the Blessing of your Administration; may the King with Pleasure remark, and with Bounty reward your Fidelity, and may the King of Kings finally crown you with that distinguished Felicity, which his Holy Spirit has thought proper to figure to us, by saying to the emphatically good Servant, who had made the most of his Charge, Have thou Authority over ten Cities.
Thomas Dawson, Commissary.

To which Address his Honor was pleased to return the following Answer.
Mr. Commissary, and Gentlemen Clergy of this Dominion.

I Return you my sincere Thanks for your very kind and affectionate Address. If Vanity is at any Time justifiable, you give me a large Field to indulge it; but as I am convinced, from this Address of your sincere Regard for, and good Opinion of my Administration, it will have its proper Effect, in engaging me, with double Diligence, to discharge my Duty to the best of Kings, and the Service of our Country.

I shall take it kind if you will, from your Pulpits, inculcate into the People, the great Dangers we are exposed to, both as to our Lives, Liberties, Estates, and what should be most dear to us, our Religion; and endeavour that in this Time of imminent Danger, they will, with Vigor and Resolution, assist me, in defeating the Designs of our merciless Enemies. Gentlemen, I am in Duty bound to support our established Church; and, I desire to assure you, my Inclinations are very sanguine on that Head; and to show the Respect and Esteem I have for the Clergy, I shall always be ready and willing to serve them.

I further earnestly desire your fervent Prayers to the Throne of Grace, for Success to our Arms, and the just Cause we are engaged in, to defeat the wicked Machinations of the Enemies to our Liberties and Church.

Amongst many important Points recommended by the worthy Commissary in his Charge, the Cause of Clergymen's Widows, and Orphans, was most movingly represented in the following Words.

Extract from the Charge.

"In the next Place, Reverend Brethren, give me Leave to recommend to your most serious consideration the Cause, the mournful Cause of the Widows and Children of our deceased Brethren.

"Consider, I beseech you, the Lamentation, and bitter Woe, of a Widow and a numerous Offspring, weeping over the Remains of an indulgent Husband and a tender Parent; destitute of that Maintenance, which was acquired by the Sweat of his Studies, or accrued to them by the Rights of his Profession.

"Pity, I conjure you, the Remains of the unfortunate Servants of the Lord; and secure God's Blessing to your own Families, by your Christian Benevolence to the Families of the deceased.

"I must own indeed, with sincere Grief and Reluctance, That in this Colony the Hire is not proportioned to the Labor; that our Trouble is great, and our Incomes small: Yet let not this discourage us: The Mite will be accepted, where the Heart is willing: And our Example may encourage others."

In Consequence of this the following Scheme for the Relief of Clergymen's Widows, Orphans, and other Charities, hereafter to be determined by the Subscribers, was drawn up, and unanimously agreed to.

The S C H E M E.

I. THAT every Clergyman, whose Widow, or Children, can be benefited by this Charity, shall at least annually subscribe a Pistole.

II. That the Clergy now assembled in Convention appoint six Trustees, to collect and receive the said Subscriptions.

III. That a Treasurer be appointed by this Convention, 'til April 1756.

IV. That afterwards he be annually chosen by the Majority of the Subscribers present.

V. That he give proper Bond, and Security to the said Meeting.

VI. That the said Trustees pay all the Money by them collected, or received upon Account of this Charity into the Hands of the said Treasurer, as soon as they possibly can after such Receipt, or Collection.

VII. That the said Treasurer keep a fair and exact Account of all Monies by him received, or expended, in a Book provided for that Purpose.

VIII. That the said Accounts be carefully examined, and passed by the Subscribers at their next Meeting.

IX. That at the Expiration of his Office, the said Treasurer pay all the Money in his Hands to the succeeding Treasurer.

X. That the Subscribers meet every third Saturday in the April Court, at the College; the first Meeting to commence in April 1755.

XI. That a Person be appointed to preach a Sermon, suitable to the Occasion, every third Sunday in the April Court.

XIII. That a Committee be appointed to wait upon the Governor for his Approbation.

XIV. That the said Trustees, and Treasurer, make a Collection at the Doors of the Church after the Preaching of every such Sermon.

XV. That at every Meeting the Disposal, and Regulation, of this Charity shall be in the Power of the Majority of the Subscribers present.

XVI. That the Explanation, and Alteration of any of these Articles; or the Addition of new ones, shall be in the Power of the Majority of the Subscribers present.

The Commissary having received the Governor's Approbation in the most cordial and affectionate Terms, the Convention came to the following Resolves;

Resolved, That Mr. Commissary Dawson, Mr. John Camm, Mr. William Robinson, Mr. William Priston, Mr. Thomas Warrington, and Mr. William Davis, be appointed the six Trustees.

Resolved, That Mr. Chickley Thacker be appointed the first Treasurer.

Resolved, That Mr. Commissary Dawson be appointed to preach the first Sermon.

November 7. On Saturday last the General Assembly was prorogued, when his Honor the Governor was pleased to make the following SPEECH.

Gentlemen of the Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Burgesses,

I Sincerely thank you for your Vote of Supply, for conducting the necessary Expedition. I shall take proper Care of representing to His Majesty, your Loyalty, and the Aid you have granted.

Be assured, Gentlemen, the Money now given shall be, with great Frugality, and due Economy, applied for the Uses it's intended.

As you have unanimously granted this Supply, I am to desire your Interest, in the different Counties you represent, to encourage the Subjects, by your Arguments, and Reasons, freely to enlist for the Protection of our Lives, and Fortunes; and to give your Countenance to such Officers that may be commissioned to raise the Levies.

And I heartily desire, Love, and Friendship, may subsist among the different Ranks of our People. Your Example, Gentlemen, will be great Encouragement to others; and, I hope, for the future, generous Benevolence will incite every Member of the Community, to a due and just Regard, for the Happiness, and Peace, of the Whole.
